

外国医生如何在瑞典获得临床医生执照

The following table gives a summary of how to apply a doctor's license

The above is the translation from the table obtained at homepage of Socialstyrelsen, corresponding to the National Board of Health and Welfare.

The key points are as follows:

瑞典语语言测试

As I can see the most important is to start to learn Swedish, which is the basic part of all and it will be much easier if one can talk good Swedish.

医学知识考试 (理论和病例)

The examination is called TULE, which is carried on only in Swedish. It is given twice a year, usually in the middle of February and September. It includes 1 day-test on theory and 2 days-test on cases.

The theory test on day 1 includes 6 subjects (medicine, surgery including orthopaedic and urology, paediatrics, gynecology and obstetrics, and psychiatry). There are about 100 questions, most are cases and no multiple choice.

Day 2 and day3 are practical cases with real patients in the hospital, one case each day, about 30 min of each, including case history, status and some simple questions concerning the diagnose and treatment.

实习医生轮转(AT)包括实习结束考试(AT prov)

This used to be 18 or 21 months, depending on the hospital one chooses. It consists of 4 parts, medicine, surgery, psychiatry and family medicine. The final exam (AT prov) will be at the end of the practical training, after 3 months work in the family medicine. It is a national examination and available 4 times a year in Feb, May, Aug and Nov. There is one case discussion on each subject (medicine, surgery, psychiatry and family medicine). 5 hours writing test.

申请医生执照

When one passes all the examinations, he/she can leave the application for doctor's license to Socialstyrelsen. This takes 3 days if all the documents are in order. One can find the detail at the homepage of Socialstyrelsen.

homepage of Socialstyrelsen:

http://www.socialstyrelsen.se/Amnesord/utbildning_o_kompetens/legitimationer/tredjeland/LKoversikt.htm

中山医欧洲校友会彭红斌供稿

2009年4月